SMRs can provide significant economic benefits across Canada and can be a clean energy source for heavy industry, mining and remote off-grid applications. How much does an SMR cost, are they competitive and what will it take for SMRs to be successfully deployed and financed in Canada? The Economics and Finance Working Group (EWFG) will present their research and analysis, taken over the last 10 months, that supports the conclusions and recommendations drawn from the SMR roadmap.